Hungarian Reds Hold 4 Young Britons As Spies

3 Youths, Girl Went To Budapest 10 Days Ago For Relief Work

BUDAPEST (AP)—Communist Hungary announced today it is holding four young Britons — one a granddaughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps — for trial on espionage charges.

The announcement was the first official word on the four, missing since they entered Hungary from Yugoslavia about 10 days ago to do relief work.

They are Judith Cripps, 19, whose grandfather was a leader in the Labor party; Roger Cooper, 21, nephew of poet Robert Graves; Christopher Lord, 21, and his brother, Basil, 23. Miss Cripps, Cooper and the younger Lord are students at Oxford.

They were headed for Budapest and were last seen in their small European car near Keszthely, about 50 miles southeast of the Hungarian capital.

A statement from the ministry of interior said the four were found in possession of "forged documents" allegedly issued by the Russian Kommandatura in Budapest last November.

It charged Cooper and Basil Lord were members of British intelligence organs and that all four wanted to "collect information on the Soviet and Hungarian armies and also on the political and economic situation in Hungary."

It added that Cooper and Christopher Lord were in Hungary last November "without valid passports and both took part in activities of counter-revolutionary groups."

After Cooper and Christopher Lord returned to England from Hungary, the statement added,
"they published in the British press and radio statements on the Hungarian situation that were contrary to the truth and slandered the Hungarian People's Republic."

FBI CRACKS RED SPY RING—FBI agents in New York arrested
Myra Soble, 52, top left; her husband, Jack Soble, 53, top right;
and Jacob Albam, 64, bottom right, on charges of conspiring to commit espionage for the Soviet Union. The FBI said the investigation in the case dates back 13 years when the bureau began scrutinizing the activities of Vassili Zubilin, bottom left, who reportedly was a general in the NKVD, the Russian secret police. Zubilin returned to the U.S.S.R. in 1944. The three arrested, all native Lithuanians now living in New York, are being held in $100,000 bail each for a hearing Feb. 1.

Soble Boy Can't Believe His Parents Are Spies

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Lawrence Soble says he can't believe his mother and father were members of a Soviet spy ring operating in the United States.

The blond youth says he is "more than 10 per cent certain that my father and mother aren't spies."

The boy's father, Jack Soble, 53,
his mother, Myra, 52, and Jacob Albam, 64, all of New York City,

were arrested by the FBI Friday. They were charged with collecting information about the national defense for purposes of transmitting the information to the Soviet union or its agents.

The Soble youngster is a senior at Rhodes Preparatory School in Manhattan.

The Sobles and Albam were held in $100,000 bail each as the FBI hinted others might be involved in the alleged spy ring.

U. S. Atty. Paul Williams said the "upper members" of the alleged espionage group "are not at the present time identifiable."

Russian Counselor Called
In Washington, Sergei R. Striga-nov, Soviet counselor, was called to the State Department and reportedly confronted with evidence involving Soviet officials in the case.

Soble and Albam were born in Lithuania. Mrs. Soble in Russia.
The FBI said the Sobles entered the United States on visas issued in Kobe, Japan, in 1941 and became citizens in 1947. Their son was born in Lithuania.

The FBI accuses the Sobles and Albam of a conspiracy dating back to 1947, the year Albam entered the country. No details were made available by the FBI as to the nature of the espionage activities allegedly carried out by the three.

Albam filed for American citizenship in 1951, three years after marrying an American citizen.
The Albams have no children.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs.
Frank Scott; a nephew, Jerry Scott; and an uncle, Dudley Hartman, all of Canfield.

Service will be Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the Williams Funeral Home. Interment will be in Can-field Cemetery.

Children of the intermediate grades will call in a body at the funeral home Monday morning.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening.

Fear Remark By Dulles Hurts U.S. Prestige Abroad

State Dept. Denies
Secretary Insulted
British And French

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials were concerned today that a remark by Secretary of State Dulles about British and French soldiers might deal a new jolt to U. S. relations with the two countries.

State Department Press Officer
Lincoln White, after consultation with Dulles, tried to head off negative overseas reaction with an assurance that Dulles did not mean to insult British and French armed forces.

Explanation Follows

But it appeared from the first reaction in British newspapers that the explanation didn't do the trick. The London Daily Sketch carried a front page banner headline reading: "Dulles Insult to Forces."

The remark in question was made by Dulles Friday while he was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committee in support of President Eisenhower's request for special military-economic powers to block Communist expansion in the Middle East.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), a critic of the Eisenhower proposals, said he wanted to know why the administration had not sought a commitment from the British and French to help the United States in any fight against Communist aggression in the Middle East.

In reply, Dulles said Morse ought to "give very serious consideration" to Arab hostility to the British and French because of their invasion of Egypt last fall.

Then Dulles added in a humorous vein:
"Personally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

After conferring with Dulles,
White told a news conference:
"By no stretch of the imagination could this (Dulles' remark) be considered as a reflection on British and French forces."

"As far as valor and training are concerned, there are none we value more highly as allies."

Ike To Greet Saud On Visit To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia will receive a "red carpet" welcome — including an airport greeting from President Eisenhower — when he arrives here next Wednesday for a three-day official visit.

For the first time, Eisenhower will greet a foreign visitor at the airport rather than on the White House steps.

Saud is scheduled to arrive in New York Tuesday, and will fly to Washington about noon Wednesday aboard the President's plane, Columbine III.

Eisenhower and Saud will start their first conference three hours later.

Meanwhile, a Washington rabbi today criticized Saud as a "foe of democracy and of free institutions."

In a prepared sermon, Rabbi
David H. Pantiz told the Adas Israel Congregation that Saud has discriminated against Jews, and that he "is not among the peace-loving statesmen of today."

that the penalty for such illegal crossing of the border can be as high as five years imprisonment.

Mrs. Chapelle is a native of Milwaukee.

She was brought into court with Ferenc Welsh, a Hungarian student accused of guiding her across the frontier from Austria.

An English-speaking Hungarian lawyer represented Mrs. Chapelle.

She appeared tired, pale and worn. She wore a long brown overcoat over trousers. Her hair was rolled up in back and she wore during questioning by the court.

New Bridge, Elimination Of Curves Planned South Of Salem Public Hearing Is Set Here Feb. 19 On Route 45 Project

The State Highway Department will hold a public hearing at City Hall Tuesday, Feb. 19, on the department's proposed relocation and improvement of Rt. 45 at Shelton's Grove, five miles south of Salem.

The hearing at 2 p.m. that day will be to hear any protests over the projected undertaking.

Plans call for a complete relocation of the highway over Beaver Creek, elimination of two winding curves on either side of the valley and construction of a new bridge over the creek.

The project, estimated to cost $850,000, will be started about June 1, Mayor Dean Cranmer was told by state highway department officials of Division 11.

Hillside on either side of the approach will be leveled by grading, and several houses in the path of the new road will have to be moved or torn down.

The job will eliminate the dangerous curve on the Rt. 45 Lisbon Road north of Beaver Creek and also the sharp curve near Long's

Crossing south of the creek, according to plans previously announced.

The new highway will be elevated to pass over the Erie railroad tracks at Long's Crossing.

Sufficient right of way will be acquired to provide two extra lanes of traffic if needed at some later date, according to the highway department.

The present bridge over Beaver Creek at Shelton's Grove is one of the narrowest in this district.

6 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen
Cite Three Drivers

Six persons were injured in three of six traffic mishaps investigated by state highway patrolmen Friday and today.

Three drivers were arrested.
Two Leontia men and one East Liverpool man were injured when the trucks in which they were riding collided at the intersection of
Rt. 7 and Rt. 517 in East Fairfield
Friday at 10:40 a.m.

Paul V. Zimmerman, 46, of Leetonia, a passenger in a state highway truck driven by John H. Mc-Donald, 68, also of Leontia, is in fairly good condition in City Hospital here with a possible brain concussion and lacerations of the head.

McDonald was treated for body abrasions and a fractured right wrist and released.

Jack E. Monier, 22, of East Liverpool, who was driving a general delivery truck, also is in fairly good condition in the hospital with a possible fractured right arm and lacerations of the right knee and face.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred when McDonald's truck, traveling north, made a left hand turn onto Rt. 517 into the path of Monier's southbound vehicle.

McDonald was arrested for reckless operation, patrolmen said.

Cars driven by John E. Mason,
26, of Nemaquin, Pa., and Markos Panteli, 61, of Elm Grove, W. Va., collided on Rt. 45, two miles south of Salem, Friday at 6:15 p.m., causing injuries to both drivers.

Mason sustained lacerations and abrasions of the left knee, and Panteli suffered lacerations of the scalp and a possible concussion.

Panteli was admitted to City Hospital where he is reported in fairly good condition.

Mason was treated at the hospital and released.

State highway patrolmen said the mishap occurred when Panteli's northbound car went out of control and skidded across the highway into the path of the approaching Mason auto.

Panteli was cited for reckless operation.

Shortly before that mishap and at the same spot on the highway,
a car driven by Robert Cledinin, 40, of RD 3, Salem went out of control and overturned in a ditch.

Patrolmen cited Cledinin for drunk driving.

'Tight Money' Policy Rapped

U.S. Cost Of Living
Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens.
Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today "tight money" policies of the Eisenhower administration are largely responsible for boosting the cost of living.

The government reported yesterday that living costs hit an all-time high in December, with a total increase of nearly 3 per cent in consumer prices during 1956.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said average earnings of factory workers set a new record in December, providing increased buying power for this group.

Humphrey said in an interview that price increases "are the result of the inflation the Eisenhower administration has inspired and sponsored."

"The greatest factor in this is the increase in interest rates," he said.

"This is a peculiar kind of inflation we are having, with no
relation to shortage of supply or to excess demand. The only time
we have had a drop in the cost of living during this administration was at the expense of the farmer, when his income went down."

Knox, United School Pupils To Be Inoculated

LISBON — Polio inoculations will be given at Knox School Wednesday to students in grades 1 to 4 and Monday, Feb. 4, to those in grades 5 to 8, according to Dr. C.

sioner, who will administer the incubations.

The United Local immunizations have been moved up to Monday
so that the department can inoculate the Knox pupils, Dr. Palmer

Wick To Win His Freedom

Will Enter Mercer
Sanitarium For Year

The state pardon and parole commission has granted a parole, effective April 15, to Francis M.
Wick, former Salem industrialist, who was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary in December of 1955 for morals offenses involving a group of Salem teenagers.

Wick, who is 47, was granted the parole Thursday on the condition that he remain at a sanitarium in Mercer, Pa., until his final release a year later. The Mercer sanitarium is privately-operated.

Family consent was necessary for the prisoner to be placed in an out-of-state hospital, the parole board explained to the Associated Press. Regulations stipulate that before a paroled prisoner can leave the state he must obtain permission to do so from the state board.

When Wick is released he will have served about 16 months in the Ohio penitentiary where he was sent by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp to serve concurrent terms of one to 20 years for sodomy and one to seven years for possession of obscene photographs.

He had been indicted by the Columbiana County grand jury in charges of sodomy, furnishing liquor to minors and possession of obscene photos. He was convicted and fined $2,000 on the charges of possession of the lewd pictures and $300 for furnishing liquor to minors.

He began his penitentiary term
Dec. 14, 1955.

Wick was arrested in December of the previous year when a teenage boy came home from Wick's apartment in an intoxicated condition. A police investigation disclosed a series of party incidents involving Wick, 24 boys and a girl.

"This is a peculiar kind of inflation we are having, with no
relation to shortage of supply or
to excess demand. The only time
we have had a drop in the cost
of living during this administration was at the expense of the farmer, when his income went down."

16 More Railroads
To Increase Fares

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved a five per cent increase in interstate passenger fares of 16 more eastern railroads. The change will be effective Feb. 1 or later.

A similar increase was authorized Dec. 31 for eight major eastern railroads, and for those operating west of the Mississippi River.

Railroads included in the new order are:

Ann Arbor Railroad; Baltimore
& Ohio; Bessemer & Lake Erie;
Central of New Jersey; Chicago,
South Shore and South Bend; Delaware & Hudson; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western; Detroit and Mackinac; The Erie; Grand Trunk

Route 44 Closed, Some Other Roads Slippery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio 44 between Ohio 82 and 303 in Portage County remains closed to traffic because of high water, the state highway department's early weather bulletin said today.

Scattered slippery spots on roads are reported north of a line marked by Van Wert, Bucyrus, Canton and Lisbon. There were light snow flurries in this area.

About Deaths Of Chicago Teenagers

CHICAGO (AP)—Sheriff Joseph
Lohman said today that Edward Lee (Benny) Bedwell, 21, told investigators he had taken the Grimes sisters to a forest preserve, but later denied it.

The nude, frozen bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and Patricia, 13, were found Tuesday along a little-traveled road in the southwest suburban area near Willow Springs.

Bedwell, a dishwasher and ha-bitue of Chicago's skid row district on West Madison St., was quoted by police saying that he and two other men drove the girls to a wooded picnic area the night of Jan. 12.

Later, Lohman said, Bedwell recanted, saying, "I was just lying."

The reported statement was the first suggestion attributed to Bedwell that he had seen the two girls between the time of their disappearance and the finding of their bodies.

Lohman said Bedwell's oral statement was made during questioning by Capt. John Cappelletti and Sgt. Ray Herdman at 4 a.m.
Friday.

Told Conflicting Stories
The sheriff said he had not disclosed the details earlier because Bedwell has told a number of conflicting stories.

"He keeps saying things and then contradicting them," Lohman said.

Bedwell was quoted as saying that he and two friends named Louie and Frank had robbed the girls and dumped them at the spot where their bodies were found after both girls became unconscious during "some scuffling" in the back seat of an automobile.

Bedwell was taken to the spot where the bodies were found, but after arriving there, according to undersheriff Thomas Brennan, said, "It is not true, I made

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Live With Pain

One of my closest friends, a man who in his time had been a magnificent athlete, a beloved college president, and a golden-voiced speaker, lay dying of a dread disease of the throat. I stood by his bed and talked to him, but he was unable to speak to me.

He picked up note pad and wrote: "I didn't expect to end this way. But there is lots of fight in me yet. My faith has never wavered, and the Lord sustains me."

I was reminded then of something another friend, the late Viscount de Noüy, had written: "Without anxiety, suffering and fear man does not really humanize himself nor liberate his spiritual aspirations. It is because of this that pain is fruitful."

For pain, difficult as it may be to endure, seems to be a release mechanism designed to bring greatness out of human nature. As a preacher I knew when I was a boy in the Midwest used to say, "Storms bring out the great eagles, but the little birds take to cover."

Peale

IT IS NOT EASY to achieve greatness of spirit through pain, let alone live with it day after day, but this world is full of unsung heroes and heroines who do just that. Others are not unsung; think, for example, of the last days of Lou Gehrig and Senator Robert Taft. Think of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his victory over his crippled body and young Senator John Kennedy and his battle with pain resulting from his war injuries.

These are names everyone knows, but think with equal admiration of all the people you see all around you every day fighting the same fight. Think of the paraplegics and the cerebral palsied holding down jobs in your own community and trying to live normal lives. Think of your own sick friends who manage to inspire those of us who are well by their cheerfulness.

All these people have learned a basic lesson of living, that there is no life without pain — and they have learned to live with pain. Most of us are fortunate enough never to have to feel pain for very long at any one time, but we never know when we may have to spend the rest of our life with suffering.

HOW CAN YOU learn to live with pain, if you must? Those who do this successfully seem to follow these practical steps:

1. Believe that pain can teach you something extra deep about life's values.
2. Think of your pain as a release mechanism to bring greatness of spirit out of you.
3. Realize that some pain may be psychic pain resulting from unhealthy thinking. Supplant that with healthy thinking.
4. Banish hates, grudges, resentments and guilt. This will conserve energy to meet your problems.
5. Keep the atmosphere around you as peaceful, quiet and serene as possible.
6. Practice the art of being cheerful.
7. Believe that God has some purpose in your pain.
8. Do pleasant and interesting things each day to counteract the unpleasantness of pain.
9. Keep busy in a constructive way.
10. Pray for and help others in pain. This will tend to minimize your own.
11. Practice the presence of God and His healing.
12. Pray and keep on praying. As Brother Lawrence wrote, hundreds of years ago, "God is often nearer to us, and more effectively present with us, in sickness than in health... Put then all your trust in Him."

'Down On The Farm'

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Shreve Holstein Nationally Recognized

Piebe Ormsby Maybelle 2309979 (VG), 15 years old and still going strong on the Glenn Shreve Farm at Damascus has joined the super-select "iron cow" ranks of registered Holsteins with lifetime production records of 200,000 lbs. of milk or more.

Dr. George R. Barrett of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced that the Shreve cow's lifetime production now totals 200,571 pounds of milk and 8,067 pounds of butterfat, more than eight times the lifetime output of the average cow.

She is one of 59 registered Holsteins which, to date, have reached the coveted 200,000 pound milestone of longevity in the official testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

This breed total, Dr. Barrett said, is believed to be greater than those of all other breeds combined.

Piebe Ormsby Maybelle was bred by the late P. P. Stewart of Maynard, Iowa. Her life span, already twice that of the average cow, dates back to January, 1942. She is also outstanding in type and is officially classified "Very Good," the second highest rating attainable in the Holstein Herd Classification Program.

During her long productive lifetime, the Ohio Holstein has also established a solid reputation as a brood cow. According to a recent check, she has five sons, five daughters, 89 grandsons and 142 granddaughters registered in the Holstein-Friesian Herd Book.

Dairy Institute Speaker

Dr. Herrell DeGraff of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., a national authority on dairying, will be the headline speaker at the annual Dairymen's Institute for Mahoning and Columbiana counties in the Masonic Temple in Salem next Thursday.

Dr. DeGraff will talk at both the forenoon and afternoon sessions. The day's program will start at 10 a.m. with a motion picture provided by the American Dairy Association.

C. D. McGrew, dairy extension specialist of the Ohio State University, will discuss "Feeding Dairy Cattle with 1956 Quality Feed" and then will discuss "The Dairy Cow, An Efficient Producer."

A noon lunch will be served in meeting hall.

The afternoon program will start with a discussion on "Fly Control in the Dairy Barn" by George Ware, extension entomologist of the Ohio State University.

Dr. J. B. Smith, district veterinarian supervisor of Carrollton, will discuss progress in dairy cattle disease programs in this area. Dr. DeGraff will conclude the day's program with an address, "The Dairy Cow Can Compete."

Arrangements for Dr. DeGraff attending this institute were made by C. A. Houlette of Columbiana, a director of the Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association and an officer of the National Dairy Association.

The Dairymen's Councils of Mahoning and Columbiana Counties cooperated with the Agricultural Extension Agents of the two counties in arranging this annual institute. All dairymen of this area are invited.

Cattle and Calves on Feed

The number of cattle and calves on grain feed for market in Ohio on Jan. 1, 1957 totaled 200,000 head according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service. This was 11 per cent more than Jan. 1 a year ago and 38 per cent larger than the 1951-55 average for the same date.

Cattle feeders in Ohio intend to market 67 per cent of the number on feed after April 1, 1957, 13 per cent in Jan., 8 per cent in February and 12 per cent in March.

Of the cattle reported on grain feed for market on Jan. 1, 71 per cent had been on feed less than three months, 24 per cent 3 to 6 months, and 5 per cent had been on feed more than 6 months. Steers made up 67 per cent of the cattle on grain feed, heifers accounted for 11 per cent, calves 21 per cent, and other cattle one per cent.

The number of cattle and calves on feed for market in the United States on Jan. 1, 1957 was 4 per cent larger than the same date a year earlier. Numbers were estimated at 6,099,000 on the first of the year compared with 5,800,000 on Jan. 1, 1956, and the 1951-55 average of 5,280,000 head.

In the North Central States, numbers were up 5 per cent from a year earlier. The 13 Western States showed only a slight increase of 2,000 head.

Total Potato Stocks

Total storage stocks of potatoes in the hands of Ohio growers on Jan. 1, 1957, totaled 780,000 hundredweight according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service.

This compares with the storage stocks on Dec. 1, 1956 of 1 million hundredweight of fall potatoes. Storage stocks of fall potatoes on Jan. 1, 1957 were 4 per cent larger than they were on Jan. 1, 1956, even though the 1956 production of fall potatoes was 14 per cent smaller than a year earlier.

Total storage stocks held by the growers and local dealers in the United States on Jan. 1, 1957 amounted to 101.1 million hundredweight. These holdings are 17 per cent above the 86.8 million hundredweight held on Jan. 1, 1956 and 11 per cent larger than the 6-year average (1950-55) holding of 91.4 millions. This year's stocks are, however, 9 per cent below the Jan. 1 stocks from the crop of 1950 and 5 per cent below those from the crop of 1949.

THE SECRET

In another moment he will be getting up and walking toward you, eager to tell the secret of his calmness and strength. Will you listen?

He has solved many problems, overcome much grief and temptation, been able to meet the conditions of every-day living, all because through the Church he has come in contact with the Source of all power. In the Church he has found companionship. Its worship services have brought faith, peace and serenity. Its activities have furnished an outlet for his creative abilities and energy. The Church has been a part of his life from boyhood. Through its various departments the needs of his life have been met. He has enjoyed the fellowship there and, looking back, he is able to trace his own growth.

Have you learned his secret? Wouldn't you like to know it?

What the Church has done for him it can do for you. If you are young, it will help meet your problems. If you are older, it will bring satisfaction and peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sooner Or Later

The proposal before the Ohio Senate to untie the hands of the Ohio Highway Patrol will have a good chance of passage if it is not strongly opposed by organized labor.

Union fear of a state police force that might be used to break strikes tied the Highway Patrol's hands when it was created nearly 25 years ago. If unions still have strong reservations on this score, their opposition might stop a proposal that has solid merit.

What the proposal amounts to is this: That the remote danger of giving general police powers to the Ohio Highway Patrol, insofar as labor unions and their sympathizers are concerned, should not overshadow the benefits of widening the patrol's usefulness to Ohioans in general.

Sooner or later, Ohio will have a statewide police authority.

Restriction of the Highway Patrol to traffic matters and detection of criminals using highways is arbitrary and unnatural and the restriction will be lifted eventually.

The year 1957 — the biennial session of the General Assembly closest to the 25th anniversary of the Highway Patrol's creation in 1933—would be as good a time as any to acknowledge that Ohio is large enough to deserve a state police force.

Birth Announcement

As long as the world is tuned in on birth announcements anyway, this is a good time to wish the best to a young couple in Sunshine Valley, which lies five miles toward the rising sun from Megopolis, U.S.A. They had a blessed event Wednesday, too.

It was a girl. Her name was Caroline. The proud father fired a 21-cigar salute. His wife Grace was doing well at last reports, as were the grandparents.

Caroline is a special baby, because she is the first offspring of her proud parents. Her daddy is an automobile mechanic, specializing in automatic transmissions. Her mommy won a beauty contest once and was football queen of the Sunshine Valley High School. Her friends thought she should be in the movies. But she and her husband never thought they should be anywhere but in Sunshine Valley.

They have big plans for Caroline. In fact, everybody in Sunshine Valley is interested in Caroline, because her father and mother are described locally as "swell people who deserve the best of everything." They hope it is a good omen that their daughter was born the same day and bears the same name as the first child of Prince Rainier II and Princess Grace of Monaco, also nice people. But to them—and to most of us—the Sunshine Valley Caroline is more important than a royal heir in Monaco. She's ours.

Sweet Charity

It is unlikely the blue-sky backers of charity bingo in Ohio will get their balloon off the ground in Columbus. But in the remote event they generate enough gas to lift it through the General Assembly and get it on the ballot as a proposed constitutional amendment, this is what's wrong with it:

Every bona fide fraternal, religious and charitable organization that might want to raise funds by playing a little bingo for fun would be in competition with bogus outfits hell-bent on playing big bingo for profit.

Ohio knows all about the monkeyshines that can be carried on in the guise of sweet charity—the big-time gamblers who deduct fat personal expenses from the gross and turn over the remainder to "worthy causes." It knows that gambling per se is illegal in this state, and it knows that bingo operated by big-time gamblers is gambling, nothing else.

Those who want to open the state constitutionally to this menace would have to generate a lot of gas to get their proposal off the ground. But they will try—and Ohioans should know what they are aiming to do.

Pulling The Plug

It was hard to believe that a world frozen stiff could turn to liquid overnight, though it has happened with variations each January since the Year 1.

A January thaw is more than a climatic incident, as can be testified to by all residents of river valleys. It is anything from a threatened emergency to the real thing—but it is never incidental.

Suddenly the runoff from tens of thousands of acres of countryside and thousands of acres of roof tops, streets and yards begins to swirl down nature's drainage system. The fact the January thaw has been pulling the plug in pretty much the same way since the Year 1 never makes the pulling any easier to withstand when the bottom drops out of the world and men have their first waterlogged premonitions of springtime to come.

Just about when you succeed in clearing up today's problems is when tomorrow comes.

Religion In And On The Job

Know Your Church

By EUGENE CARR

What are the truly important things of life? Name them — home and family, job, friends, social and recreational activities, good government, good schools, and good health.

Stripped down to the basic values that make up a happy and satisfying existence, these are the sources we usually look to first to benefit and enhance our life and living.

As a result, we give of ourselves freely and diligently to them. No amount of time or effort or attention is too great, because we do not want to be without them.

We cherish a home and family, we want to succeed on a job, we enjoy the pleasures of recreation and we want the benefits of education, health, and efficient government.

We made it our business to know all we can about the place where we work. We want to know the boss, the owners, the directors and officers. We learn something about the size of the business, the income, expenses, and profits.

We make a point of knowing our friends well. We are interested in everything they do, their good fortune, their disappointments and sorrows. We gladly give them anything we possess when they are in need.

We take an interest in our schools and hospitals and our units of government, local, state, and national. We discuss their budgets and expenditures and feel we have a responsibility to know what is going on in public affairs.

And, of course, our homes and families are very near and dear to us. We should not think of purposely neglecting any phase of our family life. We feel obligated to benefit and enhance for those we love.

All these interests are worthy, and we should give them our best attention. But, there is something else important in our lives — our church affiliation.

How much do we know about the church we attend? Do we know the board members and officers, the size of the budget, the income and where it goes?

How well do we know the clergyman, his family, his problems? Do we feel personally obligated and responsible? Would we want to be without a church affiliation?

We realize a return on most of the investments we make in life, whether it be a monetary return for work on a job, pleasure from family and friends, or peace, contentment and understanding from social and welfare pursuits.

But no investment pays a better dividend than our interest and activity in a church; nowhere do we get so much for so little.

By the way, what's the telephone number of your church? How long has it been since you called it?

Hamilton House Neglected

By JERRY KLEIN

NEW YORK
Alexander Hamilton bicentennial year, marking the 200th birthday anniversary of America's first secretary of the treasury, began the other day with impressive ceremonies in downtown New York.

At the other end of Manhattan, however, an old house called The Grange, the once-elegant home of Alexander Hamilton, stands neglected, its shabby ruin an eyesore. New York spends thousands of dollars every year taking good care of houses once occupied by such other notables as Theodore Roosevelt, Edgar Allan Poe and even Aaron Burr — who killed Hamilton in a duel. But Hamilton's home is rotten with general decay.

Unpainted for almost half a century, there are holes in the floors, walls and ceilings. Window panes are shattered, shutters hang crazily from broken hinges, and the whole place sags with age and lack of care.

On a small patch of weedy grass out front, a signboard identifies the house as having been the home of Hamilton but it is so rusted it can hardly be read. A torn flag flies from a scaly flagpole. You might well pass by the house without noticing it because it is squeezed so tightly between a church on one side and an apartment house on the other.

Inside, the entrance foyer is dark, cold and gloomy. The rooms are practically empty and the walls virtually bare. There is an 18th century pianoforte but the keys are broken. A small table said to have been Hamilton's is used to block off the stairway leading to the second floor.

A back room is said to have been the study from which Hamilton left to fight his fatal duel, after writing a farewell note to his wife. This room used to contain the pistols used in that duel but they disappeared when vandals entered the house.

Title to The Grange is held by an organization called the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society. It operates several other historic houses around New York, all of them in good repair except Hamilton's.

This is stranger still considering that the president of the society is Alexander Hamilton, a great-grandson of the treasury secretary!

The society admits it hasn't repaired The Grange for years because there never seemed to be enough money available and always there was hope the city might assume responsibility and move the house to a better location. The city still declines to take over the Hamilton house, but it offers a new site on the campus of the City College — providing the society gets it there.

This means The Grange would have to be cut in half so it can be edged out of its present cramped position, according to the society's director, Gardner Osborn.

He says that somehow $350,000 must be raised during the 1957 observances of Hamilton's career if The Grange is to receive a new lease on life. If the money isn't raised, the city has reserved the right to withdraw its offer of assistance.

Americans In Africa 'Rush'

By E. A. COUGHLIN

LONDON
Adventurous Americans, motivated by the old pioneering spirit, are showing such interest in a remote section of the British Commonwealth that special arrangements may have to be made to deal with their mounting immigration inquiries.

According to reports reaching London, U.S. citizens seem primarily interested in six "boom towns" in a frontier region strikingly reminiscent of the Old West.

The towns are in northern Rhodesia, a booming section of British Central Africa, where the similarities to the American frontier include cattle ranges, barren mountains, new towns and railroads, an onrush of settlers and — most important — mines.

The mines run the mineral gamut from copper, lead and zinc through gold. There are less than 80,000 whites in northern Rhodesia, an area larger than Texas — and more than two million Negroes.

In one town alone, more than 200 inquiries from Americans have been received in the past year. More than 20 American citizens immigrated in the last nine month period.

Letters from the States are addressed to mining companies, town authorities and labor unions.

Few American settlers went to Rhodesia in prewar days, perhaps a handful a year. Since the end of World War II, however, as many as 80 persons from the United States have pulled up stakes in one year for this land of the frontier code.

Officials ascribe the growing immigration movement to four reasons:

1. Reports of rapid developments in this last mining area and its accompanying industries.
2. The sudden interest of Hollywood and television toward the romantic African continent.

3. The idea, resulting from the above factors, that Rhodesia, apart from Australia's outer edges, offers the only contemporary parallel to the American frontier.

4. The death of isolationism in the United States, leading to the rebirth of old American wanderlust.

However, the trend to Rhodesia is not an American peculiarity. Dutch, Portuguese and Italians are filling, for the first time, the monthly immigration quota of 300 non-British citizens.

France Set Example

By JAY G. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON
World communism suffered a severe setback in a Paris parliamentary election last Sunday and it may be due for a much more potential blow as Polish voters go to the polls.

For years Paris has been the major stronghold of communism in France and the election this time included large areas of pure working-class voters. It was considered greatly remarkable therefore that the Communist showing dropped to 20.6 per cent compared with 26.3 in the national election of January, 1954, when the Communists surprisingly increased their parliamentary representation from 98 to 150 seats.

The main campaign issue in the Paris voting was the revolution in Hungary. The French workers are said to have urged a vote against communism as the only visible way of demonstrating their sympathy with the factory and mine unions which now are the main factor of continuing revolution in Hungary.

THE SAME SENTIMENT, unmistakably boiled up in the last week of the Polish election campaign but with very limited opportunity for the worker rank and file to register their feelings.

When the new Polish regime under Wladyslaw Gomułka took over last October one of its foremost promises was untrammelled voting in an election previously scheduled for Dec. 16.

The new government had not proceeded far before it postponed the voting until Jan. 20, accompanied with announcement that the freedom of choice by the electorate was not going to be quite complete.

The process as since decreed is unique. Parliamentary districts are divided into blocks of five, in each of which eight candidates were permitted to be nominated for the five seats to be filled. Of nominees in each segment five are labeled as Communists and candidates of the Gomułka government.

These not only head the list on the ballot but the law provides that any ballot dropped in the box with no marking is counted in favor of the preferred five.

The bottom three candidates in each block of eight generally are members of other than Communist parties, but all of them also handpicked by the government as reasonably "safe." In any event, it was figured, the system would permit no more than a small handful of characters of doubtful allegiance to be elected.

OVER THE LAST 10 days, however, the word is that large numbers of voters are turning to the three slightly irregular candidates, each in their own block, as the only means they have of registered opposition to whatever is left of Russian domination of their affairs.

A few days ago it was announced that some accepted nominees might be dropped from the ballot for "lack of character, responsibility and discipline."

The crowning fault is said to be even mild suggestion by candidates that if elected they will stand up both against any new Russian encroachments and for benefits for the Polish masses beyond those already accorded.

The Gomułka government has appealed to the voters to refrain from exercising their freedom of choice.

This doesn't mean that the government wants the voters to stay home. It would like the biggest possible turnout. But it hopes to add to the number of ballots unmarked and hence to be counted for the top five.

THE MOST REMARKABLE feature of the campaign, as viewed from this side of the Atlantic, is the bringing in of Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China to exhort the Polish voters to stick by Russia.

Chou's first speech in Warsaw was very tough, in that he warned the Poles flatly to return to the Russian fold, or else. After a few days of surveying the Polish scene, Chou's tone changed. In a train address, when leaving Warsaw, he said:

"Your achievements are our achievements and your difficulties are our difficulties, we are comrades in arms. The Polish nation can always count on our (that is, Chinese) support."

This week Chou went to Hungary and what he did there may do more to affect Polish voting than anything he has said heretofore.

There is no time like U.S. budget time to remember that statistical comparisons are phony unless the statistics are "weighted" to reflect changes. The most satisfactory repair job I've ever had performed on an automobile entailed lifting a little bitty wire off a greasy surface on which it was short-circuiting itself and destroying the efficiency of the engine. It took 15 seconds, was absolutely free and made a dream boat out of a junker.

It is my munch traffic experts are on the verge of a discovery that will save millions of dollars and hundreds of lives each year—that a traffic light does more harm than good when erected in the wrong place.

One of the best substitutes for a traffic light, incidentally, is the four-way-stop intersection, which is self-regulating and can be put into effect with nothing costlier than four stop-signs.

I believe in the theory that human beings attract and repel each other according to a scientific basis which will be understood some day, thus eliminating trial and error to find out who can hit it off and who cannot.

Raps Federal Spending

To The News: I wish you could have printed your editorial, "Everybody's Budget," on the front page. It was good. The Union Circus

("The Ringling Brothers Circus has signed with the Guild of Variety Artists and Teamsters Unions.")—News item.)

The elephants now go 'round,
The hands begin to play,
The boys around the monkey cage
Had better keep away.
The chariot race goes on,
With Ben Hur driving hard;
No matter who may win,
It takes a union card.

II

The trapeze artists fly
With extra bravery;
Mid somersaults they know
They've got security!
The wire-walker smiles —
Gone is the slightest frown:
He knows the union faith
That nothing will come down.

III

Behold the trainer bold,
Head in the lion's jaws...
(The lion's union has A strict no-biting clause.)
The tigers snap and snarl
But children, never fear;
They will behave because
The Guild is standing near.

IV

The sword swallower, I hear,
To critics said "Tut! Tut!...
When I've a union card
I'll never take a cut";
The Fat Lady declared,
"I'm joining with a bound,
I will not have to pay
My way so much per pound."

V

The vicious panther black
Shows few intentions grim;
(He is too smart to get The Teamsters after him);
The Polar Bears now say,
"For ice had best be good,
For if it melts too fast
We'll call the Brotherhood."

VI

The monkeys leap and play;
On peanuts each monk dines;
They're extra, happy at
Their union monkeyshines;
The trained seal toots a horn
But acts a little blue;
He may be made to join Pettillo's union, too!

Daughters Of Emmanuel Discuss Plan

A proposal for all women of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church to become members of the Daughters of Emmanuel by right of being members of the church, was discussed at the separate group meetings of the organization Wednesday.

All groups accepted the plan of giving free-of-charge instead of capitation fees as was suggested at the Woman's Lutheran Missionary conference in Texas in November.

Letters explaining the work in the mission fields were read from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goldhardt from New Guinea.

All circles opened their meetings with the hymn, "My God and I" and closed the sessions with "The Lord's Prayer."

Twelve members of the Naomi Circle met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Gang of Arch St. Mrs. Simon Miller was co-hostess.

Mrs. Simon Theiss and Mrs. Rudolph Linder were elected new leader and secretary, respectively, for the year.

The group's project for January and February will be social activities.

Salem Quakers Crush Wellsville 69-51 For 10th Victory

Fenton Tallies 20 For Salem

13 See Action As Cabas Clears Bench

By MARK MILLER

Salem's Quakers got back on the winning path last night as they crushed Wellsville 69-51 for their tenth victory in eleven starts before about 1,200 fans in the Salem gym.

Salem moved out in front right from the opening tip-off and poured 28 markers through the nets before the first period came to an end. Wellsville's Bengals tallied 15 points in this stanza.

The Cabasmen continued their onslaught and at the intermission they held a commanding lead 41-29. In the third period they tallied 20 points while limiting the Bengals to nine, and at the end of the quarter the score was Salem 61, Wellsville 38.

From the field the Red and Black took 72 shots and sank 27 for 37.4 per cent and from the foul lane they attempted 24 tries and hit on 15 charity tosses for 62.5 per cent.

In comparison Wellsville shot 61 times and tallied on 20 of these for 32.7 per cent, and from the free throw circle the Bengals tossed in 11 of 20 gift shots for a 55 per cent. Salem pulled down more rebounds than the visitors grabbing 57 compared to 39 off the backboards.

THIRTEEN PLAYERS saw action for locals as Coach John Cabas emptied his entire bench during the third and fourth quarters.

Mark Fenton led the Cabas attack with nine baskets and two fouls for 20 points and was a demon on the backboards, pulling down many rebounds.

Jim Meissner, starting his second varsity game of the year, seemingly put some added punch in the Quakers offense, as he hit the nets for six baskets and one charity toss for 13 points. Meissner's set shots from around the half-way mark on the floor were a picture to observe. He also played a good brand of defensive ball.

Big Bill Pauline, who seems to be improving each game out, tallied five markers and two foul shots for 13 points and played both backboards, both offensively and defensively, extremely well.

John Stephenson, the spark plug of the Quakers, scored on four baskets and four foul shots for 12 markers, and his defensive play was very good.

TED JACKSON, playing his usually fine brand of ball both ways, meshed the nets for three baskets and two free throws for eight points.

John Sturgeon and Clyde Marks rounded out the scoring with three and one points respectively.

Ray Rolley, clever player and deadly push shot artist, tallied 10 baskets for 20 points to lead the Wellsville attack.

As the game opened, it took the Quakers just five seconds to break into the scoring column as John Stephenson made good a one-handed push shot. Dan Baldwin, of the Bengals, evened the count at thirty seconds as he dumped in two charity tosses.

Salem was sizzling hot and before the Bengals could tally again the Quakers were leading 10-2 as Meissner hit on two long shots and Pauline and Fenton each added two foul shots. Jack Wellington and Rolley each tallied a basket for the visitors, cutting the deficit to 10-6. But this was a close as the Bengals got the rest of the evening.

AT THE BEGINNING of the third stanza, Stephenson added a foul shot, and then five successive baskets, three by Pauline, one by Meissner and another by Fenton, were scored before Wellsville could get started. It took them three minutes to tally their first points, as the Quakers continued to increase their point total.

Wellsville's season record now stands at six victories and four losses. Officials for last night contest were Lowell "Rib" Allen and Allen Laughlin.

The Quakers next home game will be played Tuesday night against Youngstown South with a record of 11 victories and one loss. Youngstown South and the Salem Quakers probably are the two top teams in the district. Tuesday night could settle who is No. 1 and who is No. 2.

Jackson spun around in the air and looped in this beautiful left-handed shot to counter two more points for Salem in the second period. His shot just cleared the outstretched hand of Wellsville's Jon Kiggins (13). Salem's Bill Pauline (23) races in at left to await a rebound, as does the Quaker's Mark Fenton (18) at the right of the picture. Other Wellsville players visible include the high-scoring Ray "Pick" Rolley (8), at center.

In the picture at right, Stephenson, late in the first quarter, bounces high into the air just in front of the basket to push up a one-handed shot. Tensely watching Stephenson drive through is the Quakers' Jim Meissner (22). Wellsville's Jack Wellington (7) is in front of the basket.

Out-of-State Teams Lose Ohio Games

By The Associated Press

Out-of-state college quintets had a tough time of it on Buckeye basketball courts Friday night. Three invaded the state. Three got beaten.

Central State at Wilberforce had to work the hardest for its win. The Marauders, three points behind with less than three minutes to go, staged a six-point finishing spurt to capture an 80-77 triumph over Taylor of Indiana.

William Fox led Taylor with 29 points and Horis Reece paced Central State with 20.

It was a lot easier for the Xavier Musketeers who romped to a runaway 91-54 win over Centenary of Louisiana at Cincinnati.

The Musketeers led 51-29 at intermission and substituted freely during the second half. It was Xavier's 10th win in 14 starts. Cornelius Freeman and Hank Stein scored 13 points each to lead Xavier. High man for the Gents was Larry Teague with 20.

In New Concord, the Muskingum Muskies spotted Bethany of West Virginia a 6-2 lead, and then proceeded to walk away with a 94-77 victory.

Sarazen's 65 Leads Seniors Tourney

DUNEDIN, Fla. — Gene Sarazen, 54 years old, played one of the best rounds of his 38 years of competitive golf to take the first round lead Friday in the PGA Seniors Tournament.

The chunky gentleman in the baggy knickers carded a 65, seven under par and a tournament record.

He had to be near perfection to nose out unheralded Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich. Barfield matched Sarazen right up to the 18th hole, where a hook into a trap cost him a par and hiked his score to 66.

That equaled the old tournament record set by Harry Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, three years ago.

Trailing the two leaders were Gunnard Johnson of Minneapolis, N. J., 69; and Bob Stuppel of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, also 69. Winner of the 54 hole tourney wins $3,500.

Pirate Mentor Sets Sights On Fourth Place

(Another of a series of managerial views on the pennant races, written under the managers' own byline).

By BOBBY BRAGAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. — The goal of the Pittsburgh Pirates for 1957 is fourth place.

Right now I would have to pick Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Cincinnati to battle out among themselves for the pennant. There is quite a gap between the first three clubs and the other five.

The Cardinals, like the Pirates, are building with youth, but I believe we might have an edge on them or are at least as good as they are. I think we're strengthened over last year even if we don't make any trades.

Our team's biggest weakness last season was lack of depth in our pitching staff which we hope to augment with the addition of Bob Garber, Bob Purkey, Joe Trimble, a sound Dick Hall and Vernon Law minus a broken bone in his foot. Luis Arroyo figures to be better with a year of work perfecting his screwball and bonus boy Laurin Pepper and Art Swanson should be more confident with a year of bench experience at Pittsburgh. We also are giving a trial to Paul Minner, the left-hander who pitched for Chicago last year.

Our lack of power, rather our dependence upon Frank Thomas and Dale Long to do it for us, told on us and we are hopeful that either John Powers or Emil Panko, may provide additional punch. Powers hit 39 homers and Panko hit 36 homers at New Orleans last year.

We have Paul Smith coming back out of the Army and I know what he can do . . . he can help us either at first base or the outfield.

"We've got to get more hitting out of our catcher, whichever one ultimately wins the No. 1 job. We hope Dan Kravitz, with added experience at Hollywood and the Dominican Republic, will be ready defensively. We also have Dick Rand who used to be in the Cardinal organization. I like Kravitz power. If he can't beat out Jack Shepard or Hank Foiles for a regular job, Kravitz could come in handy as a pinch hitter. I plan to carry three catchers. Unless you have a Yogi Berra or a Roy Campanella who can hit and catch, you're foolish to go with less than three catchers.

I think our infield is set with Long at first, Bill Mazeroski at second, Dick Groat at short and Thomas at third. The outfield is our strongest department. Bob Clemente in right, Bill Virdon in center and Lee Walls in left can do everything well. They're fast, have good arms and can hit big league pitching."

Again Seek To Cut Joe Louis' Tax Debt

CHICAGO (AP) — Another effort has been made to reach a compromise to resolve former Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis' $1, 120,000 income tax debt.

Accountant Arthur Wilson of Chicago said Friday "we hope some substantial token can be made" in the tax case.

Wilson said Louis' potential earning power is from $25,000 to $30,000 a year. He expressed hope that "a substantial token" can be made from the Joe Louis Fund being raised by outside sources "and that maybe Joe can also pay $3,000 or $4,000 a year for the next five years or so. So far as I know, Joe has no other assets with which to make an offer."

Wilf Greaves To Box Fullmer Monday

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Pittsburgh's Wilf Greaves, hoping to make a showing good enough to lead to a title bout, battles Middleweight Champion Gene Fullmer in a 10-round, non-title bout in the Coliseum Ring Monday night.

It will be the Mormon Windmill's first tussle since he took the title from Sugar Ray Robinson earlier this month.

Ringsiders who have been watching Greaves spar here for the past three days are putting the Canadian-born slugger down in their books as an underdog, mostly on the basis of his practice showing as compared with Fullmer's rugged public sparring earlier in the week.

Salem Reserves Rip Wellsville Jayvees 104-63, Set New Record

By BOB JULIAN

Hitting with amazing accuracy from the field as well as the foul line, the Salem High School reserves humiliated the Wellsville Jayvees, 104-63, last night on the Salem court to set a new school record for reserve teams. The score eclipsed the team which had been defeated by Sharpville when the Quakers won 100-54 in 1956.

In the first half the Quakers were hitting the hoops from all angles as they caged 53 per cent of their shots from the field. At the charity stripe the Red and Black meshed 66 per cent of their attempts.

Wellsville was equally on the beam as they connected on 41 per cent of their field goals and drilled in 51 per cent of their free throws.

Sophomore Woody Deitch led the high scoring Karl Zellers-coached five as he popped in eight fielders and 12 of 13 foul tries for a total of 28 points.

Following Deitch in the point-producing department were Darryl Adams, Butch Platt and Lou Slaby with 24, 16 and 14 markers respectively.

For the Bengals big Joe Russell dumped in 23 tallies to lead the way.

TO START the tilt Wellsville grabbed the lead 1-0 on a foul shot by Thompson but the fired-up Zellersmen came roaring back and meshed eight successive points to move into a 8-1 margin and from this point on the Quakers ran up the score with uncanny accuracy.

The Quakers were never in danger throughout the contest as they piled up 26 markers to 20 for the Bengals in the initial frame.

Deitch and Adams paced the locals in the canto with six tallies each.

In the second quarter the Red and Black kept the barrage up as Adams connected on a fielder to advance the locals margin to 29-20. Luckino of Wellsville then hit for two points and the lead was cut to 28-22. Then the Quakers poured in 13 markers while holding the Bengals to none and moved away out in front 41-22 with about four minutes remaining in the frame.

Salem registered 28 more points on the score board while the Wellsville aggregation accounted for 15 in the stanza to grab a 54-35 half time advantage.

DARRYL ADAMS with 10 markers led the Zellersmen in the period.

The third eight minutes saw the Quakers pick up where they left off in the preceding frames as they continued their high scoring.

Platt, Adams and Slaby accounted for 18 of the 28 points chalked up by the Red and Black and Slaby demonstrated fine rebounding on both boards.

Russell drilled in eight of the 18 markers racked up by the Bengals in the frame.

In the final period Coach Zellers inserted a team that was composed of four freshmen and a lone sophomore with five minutes remaining in the tilt and the Quakers in command 90-58.

The new aggregation moved without any trouble as they rolled the count to 98-60 with three minutes remaining.

Big Ed Yeats, who is only a freshman, was fouled and dumped in two free throws to score the Red and Black's 99th and 100th points.

Danny Krichbaum, another frosh who has been playing good ball in recent games for the Zellersmen, hit on a jump shot to send the count to 102. The last two Quaker tallies were chalked up by Ralph Ehrhart as he pushed the score to 104 on a lay-up.

The victory marked the ninth in 11 tries for the Red and Black and was the seventh defeat out of 10 games for the Bengals.

Salem shot 47 per cent over the encounter as they hit of 41 of 88 attempts. At the charity stripe the Salemites were awarded 33 shots and took advantage of the free shots as they caged 22 for a high percentage of 67.

Wellsville however, if they had shot more might have tightened the score as they bagged 21 of 60 attempts from the field for 35 per cent and at the foul line the Bengals meshed 21 of 41 tries for a percentage of 51.

Laszlo, Sime Beaten In Track Competition

WASHINGTON — Miler Laszlo Tabori and sprinter Dave Sime — who turned in losing performances Friday night in Philadelphia — buck speedy competition again to-night in the Evening Star Games.

Tabori, the Hungarian refugee who was beaten in the two-mile in Boston last week, failed to show a finishing kick as he placed third in the mile event of the Philadelphia Inquirer Games.

The 25-year-old European — who has run the mile in 3:59 — finished behind George King of Boston and Phil Coleman of Chicago. King's winning time was 4:10.1. King runs the mile here tonight.

Tabori and Coleman meet to-night in the two-mile run. Also entered in this event are the three top finishers in Friday night's two-mile — Horace Ashenfelter of New York, John Macy and Jerry Smart both of Houston. Ashenfelter's time: 9:01.8.

Sime, who rose to fame after sweeping the star sprints a year ago, was second in the 50 - yard dash. Ira Murchison of Chicago won a 5.4. Army Lt. Ken Kave of Ft. Meade, Md., was third.

All three sprinters are scheduled to take part in tonight's 70-yard dash event.

In other top Philadelphia competition Arnie Sowell of Pitt won the 1,000 yard run in 2:09.5, and Charley Jenkins of Villanova, the Olympic 400 - meter champion, easily won the 600-yard run in 1:11.9.

Art Wall Wins $1,000 In Thunderbird Play

By BOB MYERS
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — Handsome Art Wall Jr. was $1,000 richer and aiming at $2,000 more today in the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament.

But Wall would be the first to concede that the going can be rough and the opposition tough as he and 42 pros headed into the final two rounds of play.

Tied with the 33-year-old pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., are four others, Doug Ford, Julius Boros, Billy Maxwell and young Ken Venturi, all with 36-hole scores of 134.

This is eight under par for the Thunderbird Country Club's par 36-35-71 and its 6,843 yards of expensive real estate in this desert oasis.

Wall collected his $1,000 as the pro member of the winning team in the pro-amateur competition for the first two rounds of the tournament.

One stroke behind the jammed co-leaders was dangerous Cary Middlecoff, and spread within four strokes of the pace setters were seven other threats.

Mike Souchak and Stan Leonard were tied at 136, Bo Wininger and Bob Rosburg at 137, and at 138 were Jimmy Demaret, two - time Thunderbird winner and defending champion; George Bayer and Bud Holscher.

Medal scoring honors Friday belonged to Ford, the aggressive pro from Mahopac, N. Y. He shot a 64.

Voting To Be Feb. 3 For Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK — Only veteran ball players who have been retired 30 years and men who have been inactive as umpires or managers for five years will be considered in the 1957 voting for baseball's Hall of Fame.

A special Veterans' Committee, headed by J. G. Taylor Spink of the Sporting News, St. Louis, will meet Feb. 3 at a New York hotel to make a decision. It is an 11-man committee including three baseball officials, three veteran ball writers, secretary Paul Kerr and the chairman.

A maximum of two can be elected and it is entirely possible that nobody will make the grade.

Under the new rules of the Hall of Fame Committee, there will be no voting until 1958 by the writers on players active in the last 30 years, but retired for five. The new rules call for alternate year selections by the veterans and the writers.

Columbiána Dropped By Sebring 72-43

Sebring rolled over the Columbiána Clippers Friday night 72-43 in a cage contest held at Sebring.

Sebring jumped off to a 14-12 lead in the first quarter and went on a scoring spree in the second frame to emerge ahead 30-18 by intermission. Sebring padded its margin 51-30 by the three-quarter mark.

Larry Birkheimer paced the Sebring attack with 18 points. Russell Brogan tallied 17 for the victors and Harold Stanley, 16.

Jack Dowd was high scorer for the losers with 18 points.

The Columbiána reserves won the preliminary contest 61-54.

The Clippers have a 5-5 record for the season. Their next game will be Tuesday when they meet Minerva on the Columbiána floor.

U.S. Girls Win Aussie Doubles Title

By GORDON TAIT
MELBOURNE — America's Shirley Fry and Althea Gibson won the women's doubles title in the Australian National Tennis championships today, but their feat was overshadowed by the surprise defeat of Australia's ace, Lew Hoad, in the semifinals of the men's competition.

Hoad, the defending champion, was whipped by his countryman, Neale Fraser, 75, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. His hopes of a 1957 grand slam by sweeping the Australian, France, Wimbledon and United States championships thus was nipped at the very start.

The big Aussie ace, who led Australia to victory over the U.S. in the Davis Cup challenge round last month, apparently favored a strained back muscle. He played well below his top form. His service, usually of the bullet type, was weak most of the time and it was only his continuing peppering of Fraser's backhand that kept him going.

Miss Fry, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Miss Gibson, of New York, breezed to an easy 6-2, 6-1 victory over Mary Hawton and Fay Muller of Australia in the Women's doubles final. The match lasted only 29 minutes.

Miss Gibson provided the power that wrecked the Aussie lasses. She brought applause often from the crowd of 3,000 with speedy services, weighty smashes and un-canny anticipation in cutting off returns from Miss Fry's service and dropping the ball just over the net.

She and Miss Fry meet Monday for the women's singles title.

Ashley Cooper qualified to meet Fraser for the men's title by beating Malcolm Anderson in the other semifinal 6-4, 9-7, 6-4.

Featherweight Title Eliminations Set

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK — Tiny Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and handsome Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn were just about set today to open the four-man featherweight elimination tournament in Madison Square Garden in March.

Acting swiftly after four major boxing bodies had picked the turnery field, matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, said today Berrios and Costa had agreed to the match.

Brown said he hoped to get commitments soon from the others, France's Cherif Hamia and Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria.

The four 126-pound contenders were selected Friday by four major boxing bodies to battle it out for the title vacated by retired Sandy Saddler. Hamia was ranked first and given a bye into the final round. Bassey, British Empire third, was ranked second, Berrios third and Costa fourth.

Hamia, 25-year-old European champion and unbeaten in his last 13 fights, attracted a sellout crowd of 15,000 to the Palais des Sports in Paris Monday when he beat Belgium's Jean Sneyers for the European crown.

The make-up of the four-man field was announced by Julius Helfand, chairman of the N.Y. State Athletic Commission. He said he had consulted with Floyd Stevens, president of the National Boxing Assn., Eduard Rabret, France, secretary-general of the European Boxing Union and J. Onslow Fane, head of the British Board of Boxing Control.

"We were unanimously agreed that Hamia was the No. 1 contender and that he should not have to participate until the final," said Helfand.

Machen Whips Joey Maxim

Believes He's Ready To Meet Patterson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Less than three years after he launched his professional boxing career, young Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., believes he is ready to meet Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

"I think I could fight Patterson now," the 24-year-old Machen told sports writers Friday night after he had pounded his way to a unanimous decision over Joey Maxim, the former light heavyweight champ and the only man who ever beat Patterson.

"But my next move is up to my manager (Sid Flaherty)," Machen added. "I'll do whatever he says." Flaherty has indicated that he won't rush Machen into a title fight.

Already the No. 3 contender in the heavyweight division, Machen now has won 20 straight pro fights, 14 by knockouts.

The quick - handed Californian almost made the 34-year-old Maxim his 15th kayo victim.

He rocked Joey with two left-right combinations in the seventh, bounced him off the ropes with another right and sent him to his corner bleeding freely from a cut over his left eye.

In the ninth, Joey went down under a right hook to the jaw for a count of nine, and he needed all his wealth of experience to stave off Machen and last out the round.

Judge Gus Jacobson scored the 10-round 99-90 in Machen's favor, Judge Fred Aaronson 97-93, Referee Eddie Coachman 98-94 and the Associated Press 99-93.

There was no local blackout of the nationally televised and broadcast fight but 3,508 fans turned out, paying a gross gate of $12,220.

Maxim came in at 192½ pounds, several pounds over his best fighting weight. Machen scaled 190½.

Billy Brown, matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, said last week that Machen's next fight would be with Harold Carter, the No. 5 heavyweight contender, in Madison Square Garden next month.

Unbeaten Buckeyes Face Northwestern

By The Associated Press
Ohio State, the Big Ten basketball leader, makes another move today towards the conference championship, hoping to take complete advantage of a schedule break.

The Buckeyes (5-0) meet Northwestern at Columbus in regional televised basketball game (1:30 p.m. EST) via the Sports Network.

If Ohio State wins, the Bucks will take a 6-0 record into conference play when they meet Michigan State at East Lansing Monday while Purdue, tied for second with Illinois and Michigan, returns to action at Northwestern Monday. Purdue, Illinois and Michigan are tied for second with 3-1 records.

Illinois and Michigan don't come back to conference wars until a week from tonight.

The Bucks figure to win today since they play at home and if they can beat Michigan State Monday night, they'll be hard to catch by either of the other three contenders.

Illinois, meanwhile, meets Notre Dame tonight in part of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader that also pits Oklahoma A&M against Loyola of Chicago.

Michigan State, still looking for its first conference victory after three straight losses, is at Minnesota tonight. The Gophers have a 2-2 record and figure to remain in the running for the title by beating the Spartans.

Spahn Won't Pitch Against Dodgers

By CHUCK CAPALDO
MILWAUKEE — Warren Spahn, the Milwaukee Braves' capable left-hander, indicated today that he has just about given up the idea of pitching against the Brooklyn Dodgers again.

Few southpaws in recent years, with the exception of Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants, have had much success against the right-handed batting power of the Dodgers. The 35 - year - old Spahn is no exception. His career won-lost record against the Dodgers is 14-23. He hasn't beaten them since 1951.

"You can't deny the figures," Spahn said. "The thing is we have some awfully good right-handed pitchers, including one (Bob Buhl) who beat them eight times last year. Why should they use a left-hander. They're doing all right as it is."

"Besides," he added, "who am I to argue with the powers that be with the pitching capabilities we have. I don't like to talk about starting against them anymore. It's one of those things I'd just as soon forget about."

Spahn doesn't anticipate any contract trouble. He reportedly received $50,000 last season when he won 20 and lost 11.

North Lima Loses 53-46 To Goshen

Goshen Union overcame North Lima 53-46 in a cage game at Goshen Friday after a valiant but futile effort by North Lima to pull the contest out of the fire in the third stanza.

The Gophers, who have a 12-8 record, took a 15-6 lead in the first period and still maintained an eight-point edge by intermission 28-20. North Lima netted 18 points in the third stanza to come within a point of the Gophers, 39-38.

However, Goshen outlasted the losers, netting 14 points in the final frame to eight for North Lima.

Roger Wyss was high scorer for Goshen with 18 points.

Rich Brintzenhofe paced the North Lima attack with 19 markers.

The Goshen reserves also won their game, 56-32.

The Gophers' next game will be Saturday at Greenford.

College Major League Feud Heads Toward Showdown

CHICAGO — The existing feud between college heads and the Major Leagues in the signing of college baseball players appears headed for a showdown.

Ford Frick, commissioner of professional baseball has an answer but K. L. (Tug) Wilson, chief of the Big Ten Conference doesn't think it's correct.

Frick and Wilson engaged in a brisk debate Friday at the executives' Club of Chicago in discussing the recently rejected major league rule against signing college players after their sophomore year.

The majors scuttled the ruling last December and college coaches immediately raised a cry of protest.

Frick said the major league ruling was meaningless since the minor leagues never concurred with it.

Wilson immediately fired back, saying "I've always felt the majors mainly own the minors and could tell them what to do."

Actually, the majors would like to sign young prospects and pay their way through college and have them compete in baseball after their education is complete.

But at the same time they want the boys to play college ball. However, the colleges claim a player is ineligible as an amateur the moment he comes to any agreement with a professional team.

"How can the coaches justify a program of athletic scholarships for football," asked Frick, "in which a player gets financial help and remains an amateur — yet, if I, as a major league club, say that, above board, I'll pay for his educational needs until he graduates he is declared ineligible."

Wilson said "It all boils down to this." "The majors are turning more and more to colleges for their talent and we don't intend to be their proving grounds."

Italian Team Leads Six-Day Bike Race

CLEVELAND — With Alfredo Estimanges of Spain whipping around the spruce track in daredevil style, the team of Estimanges and Mario Moretini of Italy was in first place today in the six-day bicycle race here.

The field peddling around the improvised track at Cleveland Arena was reduced to 10 teams Friday night at the half-way mark in the roughly 2,000-mile race. Injuries suffered in a smashup Friday forced Claude Cote of Montreal to drop out, and his partner, Arthur Stahlburg of Chicago was unable to pick up a new partner.

There was little to separate first from sixth place.

In laps, Estimanges and Moretini were tied with the U.S. team of Jackie Heid, Rockaway, N. J., and Bill Jacoby, Chicago, and the team of Paul De Paape, Belgium, and Erwin Pesek, Chicago. The three teams were even in laps covered, but Estimanges and Moretini had 309 sprint points to 283 for Heid and Jacoby and 134 for De Paape and Pesek.

Four other teams were only one lap behind.

Joel Sharp, Jr. Swims With Yale Mermen

Joel Sharp Jr., of Salem is a member of the varsity swimming team at Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Sharp prepared for Yale at Phillips Academy, where he participated in tennis for two years. He was an honor student and a member of the Glee Club at Phillips.

Sisters

Madison St., and then Bedwell drove to a forest preserve. The girls and the other men "loved it up" in the back seat, and after "sounds of scuffling" Bedwell noticed that the girls were unconscious. He and the others disrobed them, and tossed their bodies out of the car beside a road.

In another development, Englewood disclosed that Colin McLay, 39, night clerk in the Clermont Hotel, 746 Englewood Ave., on the South Side, reported that he had rented a room to Barbara Grimes and another girl at 3:10 a.m., Dec. 30.

Identified Body
Police Lt. James P. Keeley said that McLay identified the body of Barbara Grimes in a funeral home today as that of the girl who registered for the room, signing "Kitty and Helen Miller."

McLay, who said he had just returned from a vacation and learned about the Grimes killings, told police he had told the girls they were too young to stay in the hotel by themselves. But, after they had told him they were unable to get into their house and complained they had nowhere else to sleep on a cold night, he permitted them to register.

McLay said the girls left the hotel the afternoon of Dec. 31.

Also held for questioning in the case is a friend of Bedwell, Richard W. Wittemire, 28.

Bedwell has been identified by several persons as having been with the girls and another man on West Madison Street shortly after the sisters were reported missing from their South Side home Dec. 28.

The girls' nude, frozen bodies were found Tuesday in a ditch near suburban Willow Springs. The cause and date of their deaths has not been determined.

Police said a 19-year-old girl of Indian descent, Irene Dean, Friday night told them she and a cousin, Carol King, 18, were picked up by Bedwell and a companion Dec. 29 or 30. She said they were in a Madison Street restaurant and theater, as Bedwell had claimed earlier in denying he had been with the Grimes girls.

Bedwell, police said, admitted he and a man whose name he did not know accompanied two girls on a round of bars on West Madison the night of Dec. 28 and morning of Dec. 29. The girl he was with, he said, was named Carol.

Doesn't Fit Description

Police said Whittemire, who is separated from his wife and is the father of two children, does not fit the description of Bedwell's companion the night he escorted the girls. They said he came to Chicago last November from Mansfield, Ohio, where his mother lives, and met Bedwell in December.
